New Quarterly Addendum to the Register of Orchid Hybrids

This issue will be the last bimonthly list as a Supplement to the Orchid Review. Commencing in 2005 the list of new hybrids will be published four times a year as the Quarterly Supplement to the International Register and Checklist of Orchid Hybrids. It will still be available as an optional extra to an Orchid Review subscription. This brings publication of registered orchid hybrids more into line with other international registers maintained by the RHS. It is anticipated that the first Quarterly Supplement will be issued with the March 2005 Orchid Review and contain registrations received during mid-September to 31st December 2004. Thereafter publication is expected in July, September and November.

REGISTRAR'S NOTES

Notes on previously refused registrations in Phalaenopsis group.

Due to unquestioning acceptance of unfortunate advice from ORAC offered to past registrars, there is now considerable confusion concerning the parentage of Phalaenopsis grexes made with parents previously lumped into Phal. lueddemanniana and Phal. violacea. Herman Sweet, quoted in Christenson's Phalaenopsis Monograph (2001: 133) wrote, 'This simplistic approach raises havoc with the scientific nomenclature as well as producing a situation in which highly heterogeneous and different hybrids must be called by names which do not reflect their true parentage and genealogy.' To which Christenson adds, 'It is hoped that this situation will change as the species of this complex are increasingly used to produce new directions in hybridization.' The main problem areas have been with:

Phal. lueddemanniana Prior to 2002, Phal. hieroglyphica, pallens, pulchra and reichenbachiana were treated as synonyms, whereas Phal. fasciata was treated as distinct for registration. All are now accepted as grex parents.

Phal. violacea Prior to 2002 Phal. bellina was treated as a synonym, as Phal. violacea var. bellina or 'Borneo Form'. Hybrids made with Phal. bellina can be identified by the lower half of the lateral sepals being more darkly coloured (usually dark pink) compared to the upper halves (usually light yellow to cream), a trait inherited from Phal. bellina.

In order to begin to set the record straight, early hybrids involving the above parents that were rejected by the then registrars have now been registered and their details provided below. It is hoped that by making dates available and indicating the grex name under which the registrars lumped them, they may be traceable where they have been used in breeding under another name. Since many registered grex names in this group actually apply to two or three separate grexes (E.g. Donna Louise gx and Fintje Kunriawati gx included in Luedde-violacea gx), it is not possible to simply change the parentage in the register and use the same name. Therefore the names already registered will stand with their registered parentage. However, registrations of new names that may now be needed for their progeny will be registered free of charge for anyone who is willing (and brave enough) to re-register their Phalaenopsis crosses under the correct parentage. For example, recently Phal. Gigabell was registered by P. Lippold as bellina x gigantea, while Phal. Mok Choi Yew had been previously registered in 1964 by C.Y. Mok as violacea x gigantea. It now transpires that the original Phal. Mok Choi Yew was made using bellina x gigantea. However we cannot be sure that all plants labeled Mok Choi Yew gx are of this parentage, as the grex may have been remade since using genuine violacea x gigantea. Consequently it would be unwise to simply change the registered parentage of Mok Choi Yew and treat Gigabell as a synonym. Under the ICNCP a grex name is defined by the recorded parentage and hence both grex names are established and available for use. What is important is the application of the appropriate grex name to the correct plant. Similarly, Phal. Lydia Tobia is registered as bellina x Deventeriana, while Phal. Sweet Memory was registered in 1982 as Deventeriana x violacea. Once again Sweet Memory was originally made using bellina x Deventeriana.

Further to this, the book The New Phalaenopsis of Taiwan in 1993 (Special edition) illustrates several hybrids which appear to have been made twice with both Phal. violacea and Phal. bellina, and another parent, but which are grouped under the same grex name. These include, Chiayi Yellow Green gx, Grosbeak gx, Harford's Jewel gx, Princess Violet gx, and Princess Kaiulani gx. Thanks to Robert-Jan W. Quené for kindly bringing this to my attention.

While every effort has been made to use the original choice of grex name, due to the many registrations since these older applications, some names have been duplicated. The registration staffs have replaced these with modified forms. Any registrant wishing to change one of these names should contact the registration office with a suitable alternative name as soon as possible. Due to the large number of older registrations and the time elapsed it has not been practical to contact each registrant concerning their past registrations. The registrar would like to apologize for any distress or inconvenience this may have caused, and will be pleased to adjust any of the above registrations at the request of the registrant, within the limitations of the ICNCP.

Laeliocattlea McBeaniana was registered with L. anceps 'Schroderae' as a parent. This taxon belongs to L. anceps ssp. dawsonii f. chiapensis Soto Arenas, and is now entered in the register under L. dawsonii. See Halbinger & Soto, Laelias of Mexico, Orquidea (Mex.) 15: 71 (Oct. 1971).
