* A number of recent floristic works give Acampe papillosa as the accepted name for this taxon, including Pearce & Cribb, Flora of Bhutan 3(3): 490-491 (2002) and Hara, Williams & Stearn, An enumeration of the flowering plants of Nepal 1: 30 (1977). However, World Monocots Checklist (available at www.rbkgew.org.uk) accepts Acampe carinata.

CORRECTIONS

Masdevallia Gault's Gypsy appeared as Gault's Gipsy in Orch. Rev. Suppl. 114(1271): 10 (Sept. 2006), please correct the spelling.

Odontioda Bel Val appeared as Belval in SLOH Addendum 1991-1995: 510 (1996) by error. Please correct the typography.

Phalaenopsis Joy Pink Chameleon appeared in SLOH Addendum 2002-2004: 666 as Joy Pink Chamelion please correct the spelling.

Stanhopea Augres appeared with the pollen parent listed as Stan. platyceras (Aug. 1998). EYOF advises that the pollen parent has been redetermined as Stan. maduroi.

Change of Registrant. James Wm. McCully, owner of several orchid nurseries, has registered hybrids under several of his trading names. He has requested that these all be collected together in the register so that he may be clearly identified as the registrant. Consequently, registrations by The OrchidWorks and Mauna Kea Orchids, should be changed so that the registrant appears as J. M. McCully. The originators remain unchanged.

REGISTRAR'S NOTES

A new hybrid between Bulbophyllum and Dendrobium

The novel hybrid Bulborobium (Bulbophyllum x Dendrobium) may occasion some comment as these two genera along with their satellites, have been maintained in different breeding groups (Dendrobium in Gp.3 and Bulbophyllum in Gp.11). Both these genera are very large with c. 900 species and 1200 species respectively, and partly as a consequence, breeding activity has concentrated on hybrids within each of the two genera with little incentive to produce intergenerics. For example, Dendrobium is the basis of a major industry for pot-plants and cut flowers and just over 10 000 hybrids have been registered to date.

However, after careful investigation the registration, (Bulb. putidum x Den. Anucha Flare) upon which this new hybrid genus is based, has been accepted. This will require the merger of the two breeding groups involved.

Reasons for accepting this hybrid include:

1. The taxonomic position of the two genera. Both genera are regarded as sister genera within the Dendrobieae, with Dendrobiinae containing Dendrobium and satellites, and Bulbophyllinae containing Bulbophyllum and its satellites. The two sub-tribes share several significant features including, naked pollinia, chromosome number, seed type, and general floral form (Dressler, 1993, Phylogeny and classification of the orchid family, p. 202-204). This close relationship is upheld by recent molecular work as discussed in Genera Orchidacearum 4: 5-6 (2005), which comments that 'Dendrobieae [is] exactly as circumscribed by Dressler (1993)', adding that the Dendrobieae is 'so morphologically distinctive that that it would have been a great surprise to find that [it was] not clearly identified in the DNA analyses.' Mention is also made of 'velamen of the Dendrobium-Bulbophyllum type', further indicating a close relationship.

Breeding Groups usually match closely clusters of sub-tribes as upheld by both Dressler and later molecular work, which means in practical terms that hybrids between some Dendrobium and Bulbophyllum should be expected. This is well established with other Breeding Groups containing groups of comparable taxonomic distance that are known to interbreed such as the subtribes containing Cymbidium (Cyrtopodiinae) and Catasetum (Catasetinae) within the tribe Cymbidieae.

Asiatic Bulbophyllum appear to be fly pollinated and exhibit various sapromyophilous pollination syndromes, whereas Dendrobium are mostly bee pollinated. As a consequence of the elaborate pollination systems there is no need for other mechanisms of incompatibility to retain generic identities, hence it should not be surprising that hybrids between elements within the two genera are possible.

2. Comparison of the photographs of the hybrid with both parents. Scrutiny of the images provided by the breeder indicate a flower that has features intermediate between the two putative parents. The flower most resembles the Dendrobium parent in colour and general appearance, which is stated to be the pollen parent. The breeder has since confirmed that the seed parent was definitely the Bulbophyllum which is very strong evidence in favour of a genuine hybrid. Some other features of interest include; inheritance of the long lateral sepals from the Bulbophyllum parent, as elongated but reduced (by comparison) sepals in the hybrid which is consistent with the inheritance of similar features in other hybrids, compare for example, the inheritance of petal tails from Paphiopedilum sanderianum. Characters that relate to highly specialised pollinator shifts are not likely to dominate in a hybrid. The distance between the lip and column in the hybrid is much greater than in the Dendrobium parent and reflects the Bulbophyllum flower, as does the shape of the labellum.

3. Comparison with some of the Dendrobium hybrids in the immediate ancestry of Den. Anucha Flare, and the results of selfing these hybrids, suggest that the shape of the hybrid flower is more than would be expected from segregation due to accidental selfing of Anucha Flare, which can be discounted if the seed was harvested from the Bulbophyllum parent as claimed. See for example the photographs of segregates resulting from selfing Den. Theodore Takiguchi, Kamemoto et al., Breeding Dendrobium orchids in Hawaii, 1999: 92.

The breeder Mr Thitipas Chitchole of Thailand, kindly responded to enquiries, explaining that only 15 seeds were obtained from the pod on the Bulbophyllum, and that most seedlings were still in flasks. Other Bulbophyllum x Dendrobium have been made and other growers have produced viable seeds and have seedlings at flask stage or beyond, including Bulb. appendiculatum x Den. pulchellum. The hybrid that flowered was pollinated on 28th November 2004 and flowered on the 9th September 2006. The choice of Dendrobium Anucha Flare as a parent in this cross is an interesting one, which has likely been an important factor in its success. This hybrid combines three sections, Phalaenanthe, Spatulata and Latouria, and seven species (though Den. phalaenopsis predominates) within Dendrobium, providing a broad genome. Parallel situations in other breeding groups have shown that this is more likely to result in viable seed than a cross between two species in different genera.

Breeding Group 3 will now be regarded as consisting of Bulbophyllum s. l. and Dendrobium s. l., along with their satellite genera such as Flickingeria and Sunipia. This is an adjustment to the list of breeding groups as it appears in The handbook on orchid nomenclature and registration 4th ed. 1993: 50-51.

Cypripedium Memoriam Shawna Austin is the name proposed by Dieter Hach of Berlin for the hybrid Cyp. macranthos var hotei-atsumorianum x Cyp. calceolus raised by C. Austin in Canada. It applies to an element within Cypripedium x ventricosum Sw., syn. Cyp. x barbeyi Camus.

Dendrobium Golden Aya gx

This grex was registered in 1985 as Den. aphrodite x capillipes. According to Thiraphong Dephasdin, Thailand, plants available under this name have larger pseudobulbs and longer inflorescences with more and larger flowers, than would be expected if typical Den. capillipes was a parent. Consequently he suggests that the plant once known as Den. capillipes var. elegans Rchb.f., for which the currently accepted name is Den. braianense Gagnep. (syn. Den. ejirii T. Yukawa; Den. sukhakulii Seidenf.) may have been used in a remake of Golden Aya grex. He further speculates that the parentage of these plants may be Den. albosanguineum x Den. braianense.

Paphiopedilum* Lemförde Surprise gx 'Keltenzauber'.

R. Janke wishes to use the designation 'Keltenzauber' to distinguish that element of the grex which is derived from Paph. superbiens (curtisii) x Paph. Maudiae Coloratum Gp 'Vinicolor'. He describes it as "Purpur Blüte, Fahne purpur gestreift, Petalen dunkelpurpur behaart mit Warzen, Lippe dunkelpurpur." (Purple flowers. Purple sepals, petals dark purple with spots. Lip dark purple.)

Further new European hybrid genera

Several new hybrid generic names, which do not appear to have been established by publication have been used in the Inventaire National du Patrimoine Naturel (CITES Annex B) produced by the Muséum National D'Histoire Naturelle, Paris. They are enumerated below.

Anacamptiserapias Anon. = Anacamptis Rich. x Serapias L. The name Serapicamptis Godfery (1921) is already available for this hybrid.

Cephalorhiza [Cph.] Anon. nothogen. nov. = Cephalanthera Rich. x Dactylorhiza Neck. ex Nevski is based on Epipactis hybrida Holuby ex Soo, which the inventory compilers evidently believe to represent this hybrid. This plant also has been treated as Cephalopactis hybrida (Holuby ex Soo) Dom., with Cephalanthera damsonium x Epipactis helleborine as the putative parentage. Neotinacamptis [Ntc.] Anon. nothogen. nov. = Anacamptis Rich. x Neotinea Rchb.f.

Neotinarhiza [Ntz.] Anon. nothogen. nov. = Dactylorhiza Neck. ex Nevski x Neotinea Rchb.f.

Neotinorchis Anon. = Neotinea Rchb.f. x Orchis L. The name Orchinea J.M.H.Shaw (2003) is already available for this hybrid.

Advisory Panel on Orchid Hybrid Registration (APOHR) Newsletter

January 2007

Chairman's Letter

The Advisory Panel on Orchid Hybrid Registration is one of the most international of bodies advising the RHS; the issues that are dealt with by the Panel can be amazingly complex and its recommendations often have a far-reaching effect on the way orchid names are used. With the challenge of new techniques in genetics, sophisticated work in taxonomy, speedy communication and immediate availability of data it is no surprise that there will be increased debate over the interpretation of this avalanche of new knowledge. More than a year ago the Advisory Panel reached an impasse in this debate and it was decided that the activities of the Panel would be suspended while the Society's registration activities were reviewed by a Working Group appointed by the RHS Horticultural Board. The detail and complexity of the review meant that the Working Group was not able to make its report until June last year. The Horticultural Board of the RHS endorsed the recommendations made in that report with some slight amendments. The most significant proposals in the report were: the size of the Panel to be reduced slightly and its membership reviewed; a new chairman be appointed to make a fresh start with the Panel's business; procedures were put in place to communicate and resolve differences of opinion; a set of criteria were established to guide the Orchid Registrar and to monitor his work; the Panel, like the other registration panels, will report to the Advisory Panel on Nomenclature and Taxonomy (APONAT).

Dr. Henry Oakeley joined the Panel (when it was widely known as ORAC) in 1994 and succeeded Alasdair Morrison as Chairman in 1995. I would like to thank him, on behalf of the Panel, for all his unstinting hard work and dedication during the eleven years he served as Panel member and Chairman. His representation greatly enhanced the international standing of the Panel and the hybrid register. It is especially pleasing that Henry's contribution to orchids and horticulture was recognized by the RHS by the award of the prestigious VMH last year. I am extremely grateful to Henry for his sage advice and continued help.

Much important work lies ahead: the discrepancies between the codes of nomenclature (ICBN and ICNCP) need to be looked at; the implications of Genera Orchidacearum are a challenge, a rapidly developing orchid industry and demand for instant information will mean an increasing workload for the registrar and APOHR. It is very significant that the Orchid Hybrid Register is one of the most consulted resources on the RHS website (http://www.rhs.org.uk/plants/registration_orchids.asp) It is comforting that Mr Julian Shaw, the International Orchid Registrar and Dr John David, Head of Botany of the RHS, are giving their full support to the findings of the Working Group and to the work of the Panel. I am grateful to Mrs Joyce Stewart for agreeing to continue as vice-chairman to help ensure continuity. But I am especially indebted to the new and existing members of the Panel who are voluntarily offering such an immense amount of expertise in taxonomy, plant genetics, judging, horticulture and hybridization. It is hoped that one or two more members will be appointed in the near future but the current membership is as follows: Mr Ian Chalmers (Australia), Dr Phillip Cribb (UK), Dr. Robert Griesbach (USA), Mr Peter Hunt (UK), Dr Tom Sheehan (USA), Mrs Joyce Stewart (UK), Dr Toshinori Tanaka (Japan), Dr Masanori Tomita (Japan), Mr Yoshitaka Ueda (Japan), Prof Mark Chase (UK), Mr Christopher Purver (UK-Jersey).

Johan Hermans January 2007

Who are the Panel members?

The following biographical notes have been volunteered by panel members. It is hoped to include additional summaries in future newsletters as they become available.

Johan Hermans has been growing and studying orchids for almost 25 years, he has written and lectured extensively on a variety of orchid-related subjects including: the genus Dracula, Pleurothallidinae, the History of the RHS Orchid Committee, but his real passion is Madagascar and its orchids. He is vice-chairman of the RHS Orchid Committee, Chairman of BOC judging, a Trustee of the World Orchid Conference Trust and an honorary research associate of the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew.

Tom Sheehan is Professor Emeritus and former Chairman of the Department of Environmental Horticulture at the University of Florida, He is now in his 52nd year with the University. His speciality crop is orchids. Over the years he has written several books and numerous articles on orchids. He is an Honorary Life member and Honorary Vice president of the American Orchid Society, He is also a Fellow of the American Society of Horticultural Science and a past President of the Florida State Horticultural Society. He has been a member of RHS for many years.

Joyce Stewart studied Botany at the University of Reading in the 1950s. She married a fellow student and went to live in Kenya in 1960, moving to South Africa in 1972. With an interest in orchids developed in her schooldays she soon became an authority on African orchids and had opportunities to collect and grow a wide-ranging selection. Returning to UK with her husband in 1982, she brought her orchids with her and established them in a new greenhouse in Dorset where they still flourish. In 1985 she was invited to become the first Sainsbury Orchid Fellow at the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew and worked with Margaret Ramsay on the conservation of British orchids as well as other projects. She moved to the Royal Horticultural Society in 1995 on becoming Director of Horticulture, Science and Education, based at Wisley. She retired in 2003 and now devotes her time to voluntary activities for the RHS and others, mostly in connection with orchids. She has published many books and papers on orchids, most recently Angraecoid Orchids: species of the African region with Johan Hermans and Bob Campbell (2006). She has been Chairman of the International Orchid Commission (IOC) since 1985, is a long-standing Trustee of the World Orchid Conference Trust and President of the British Orchid Council.

What does APOHR do?

The Panel advises the Royal Horticultural Society (RHS), in support of its role as International Cultivar Registration Authority (ICRA) for Orchids, on the implications and acceptability of changes in orchid systematics and nomenclature, as well as of hybrid registrations. It also advises the Society on procedural matters in relation to orchid registration. It reports to the Horticultural Board of the RHS through the Advisory Panel on Nomenclature and Taxonomy (APONAT).

The remit of the Panel is to consider:

- The impact and acceptability of changes in orchid nomenclature and taxonomy, especially those published in volumes of Genera Orchidacearum.
- Grex registrations where these may be contentious.
- The promotion of the register in international fora and increasing awareness and understanding of the registration process among orchid hybridisers.
- The relationship and interaction with the International Orchid Commission (IOC).
- Revision of the Orchid Registration Handbook and its publication.
- The use and availability of registration data through the Internet, CD-ROMs, or other media.
- Advise on procedural matters such as registration fees and revision of the registration form.
- Relay comments from orchid growers, hybridisers and judges to the Registrar and liaise between them.

Major changes required for Register to comply with Genera Orchidacearum vol. 4 (GO 4)

The following are the main changes required to bring generic limits into line with those set out in GO4. Items 1 and 10 are already implemented in the Register.

1. Separation of Myrmecophila from Schomburgkia (GO 4: 282-287)
2. The transfer of all remaining Schomburgkia to Laelia. (GO 4: 265-271)

At the November 2006 meeting of the Panel it was agreed to accept a moratorium on nomenclatural changes resulting from GO until May 2007, when the matter would be discussed again at the APOHR meeting.

As this Newsletter went to press, the panel advised the RHS that the genera Cirrhopetalum and Cirrhophyllum (Cirrhopetalum × Bulbophyllum) should be included within Bulbophyllum for the purpose of hybrid registration, with immediate effect. This has been accepted and implemented.
