New Group

Disa Kalahari Sands grex Sam's Delight Group.

Howard Taylor (UK) has produced a remake of Disa Kalahari Sands grex made in 2011, and first flowered 2016, as Sam's Delight Group, with the parentage Disa Foam 'Pink' x Disa Unifoam 'Pink Classic'. The original making of Kalahari Sands grex by Cywes used 'Impala' x 'Ambassador'. It has been named by Tom Watson for the outgoing editor of the journal of the Orchid Society of Great Britain, Lady Samantha Hurley. Description: Large red sepals and small pink petals, hood tessellated by darker red broken lines over pinkish red.

Notes

Attribution of Cattleya 'Pendentive'

The identity of the plant used as a grex parent and usually called Cattleya walkeriana 'Pendentive' has been the subject of much debate, and it transpires that the evidence suggests it is a selection from Cattleya x dolosa, a hybrid of Cattleya walkeriana x C. loddigesii.

There are about 40 registered grexes currently listed as having Cattleya walkeriana 'Pendentive' as a parent, and at least a further 25 with C. walkeriana var. alba cultivars, apparently representing variously introgressed hybrids, which also segregate in the same clade as C. x dolosa in an analysis by Jin et al., (J. Japan Soc. Hort. Sci. 73(5): 496–502. 2004). These register entries have been changed to show Cattleya x dolosa as the parent instead. Genuine Cattleya walkeriana var. alba has no yellow on the lip; the yellow blotch is inherited from C. loddigesii. Breeding work has revealed that plants with a pale yellow colour on the lip near column are C. x dolosa.

Cattleya x dolosa contains the following grexes: C. Angel Walker, C. Colorado Morado, C. Cosmo-Hiroto, C. Hallie Rogers, C. Heathii (1), C. Karin Martin, C. Little Angel, C. O'Brieniana, and C. Snow Blind.

Paphiopedilum x maudiae

During revision of the orchid entries for the forthcoming 4th edition of Mabberley's Plant-book, it was discovered that the name of the well-known hybrid, Paphiopedilum Maudiae grex, was originally published as Cypripedium x maudiae Rolfe, Orchid Rev. 8: 308 (1900) in a form that constitutes valid publication under the ICN. Subsequently, it was inadvertently transferred to Paphiopedilum in a little-known paper by Henry A. McQuade entitled 'The cytology of Paphiopedilum maudiae hort.' in Ann. Missouri Bot. Gard. 39: 433–473 (1949). Consequently, the name is available under the ICN as a botanical binomial, Paphiopedilum x maudiae (Rolfe) McQuade, Ann. Missouri Bot. Gard. 39: 437 (1949). This name and its basionym are now include in IPNI.

New combinations

Prosthechea x intermedia (Campacci) J.M.H.Shaw, comb. nov. Basionym: Anacheilium x intermedium Campacci, Colet. Orquídeas Brasil. 12: 458 [28 Jul 2016].

Data Protection Act (UK) and Orchid Registration

The RHS is required by UK law to implement the Data Protection Act, legislation that is designed to protect personal information against misuse. This has many consequences across the RHS, including how personal data is collected and used in the processing and publication of orchid hybrid registrations.

Although most registrations originate from countries outside the UK, since the personal data is maintained within the UK this legislation applies to all personal data held in the RHS plant-name registers regardless of country of origin. However, it only applies to personal data – that is, information relating to individual people – and hence does not apply to data regarding commercial nurseries, and institutions such as universities and plant breeding stations whence many applications originate, as that information is already in the public domain through websites and advertising.

Simply to hold minimal information including a person's name, address and email or telephone number now requires their permission under the UK Data Protection Act. Consequently, permissions to publish the registrant's and originator's names in plant-name registers now have to be obtained from individual registrants before their hybrid registration application can be processed. Therefore the possibility now arises that some persons may withhold consent to publish their details, in which case some registrations may be anonymous.

This implementation began from 1 October 2016, as this date marks the beginning of compiling records for a new Orchid Review Supplement to appear in March 2017. It is too late to do anything about registrations collected before 1 October 2016 (the Data Protection Act is not retrospective) or to collect permissions before the publication of the next Sander's List Addendum planned for May 2017. The Addendum will consequently appear without a list of registrants.

The current application form and customised versions of it may continue to be used, provided that applicants also supply a completed copy of the Personal Data Statement, which will be emailed to applicants upon receipt of their hybrid registration application.
