REGISTRAR'S NOTES ON NAMES IN THE REGISTER

New Group

Dendrobium* Raspberry Delight Group.

Norman Fang, a California-based orchid hybridist has produced a Group of peloric Dendrobium hybrids. The cross Dendrobium Nestor x Den. parishii already exists (in opposite direction) as Den. Kean's Baby at grex rank, bred and registered by Matsumoto in 2010, using Den. rhodopterygium '300' (now included in Den. parishii) crossed with Den. Nestor 'Ken'. This hybrid produced flowers 4.5 x 5.5cm wide, white to light pink with pink edge on tepals; lip white with two large red-maroon eyes. However, Norman Fang has used Den. Nestor crossed with a peloric Den. parishii to produce his striking remake that produces rich lavender flowers with flared feathery peloric markings in which the lip pattern is repeated on both the petals. It is also highly fragrant. Such a distinctive result deserves nomenclatural recognition as a Group. A Group is like a subgrex, it is a collective name that applies to all the peloric seedlings resulting from the cross, and one can still name individual plants (clones or divisions) as cultivars. The full name is Dendrobium Kean's Baby grex, Raspberry Delight Group.

New combination

Phalaenopsis laotica (O.Gruss & Aver.) O.Gruss comb. & stat. nov. Basionym: Doritis pulcherrima var. laotica O.Gruss & Aver., Orchidee (Hamburg) 60(4): 440 (2009) & Orchidee (Hamburg) 60(5-6): 472 (2009).

New hybrid genera

Jasenara [Jsn.] W.Jasen = Coryanthes Hook. x Polycycnis Rchb.f. x Stanhopea J.Frost ex Hook.
Xylida [Xld.] J.M.H.Shaw = Ida A.Ryan & Oakeley x Xylobium Lindl.

Dr Umakant Deshmukh has kindly pointed out that x Parisia J.M.H.Shaw, Orchid Rev. Suppl., 110(1248): 109 (2002) a nothogenus for Luisia x Paraphalaenopsis, is a later homonym of the bryophyte natural genus Parisia Broth., Öfvers. Finska Vetensk.-Soc. Förh. 48(15): 5 (1906). Consequently a replacement nothogenus is here provided: Paraphaluisia [Prs.] J.M.H.Shaw & U.B.Deshmukh nothogen. nov. = Luisia Gaudich. x Paraphalaenopsis A.D.Hawkes.

The International Odontoglossum Alliance has recently accepted these two new nothogenera:

Chinkovsyara [Cnkvsk.] A.Easton = Baptistonia Barb. Rodr. x Cochlioda Lindl. x Miltonia Lindl. x Odontoglossum Knuth. Named after the late Dr Chinkovsky, Colombia.

Kaedingara [Kdra.] J.Kaeding = Ada Lindl. x Brassia R.Br. x Cochlioda Lindl.

Sander's List Addenda – discontinued

Hardback-bound volumes of registrations have been produced variously at five- or three-year intervals since the RHS commenced operation of orchid hybrid registration on 1 January 1961. However, for the last few Addendum volumes there has been a falling off in demand with the result that, due to increasing storage costs, we have had to discard unsold copies of previous Addenda. It is also felt that it is no longer sustainable to print copies when much of the information is available online. Following consultation with the Orchid Hybrid Registration Advisory Group it has been agreed that no further volumes of Sander's List of Orchid Hybrids addenda will be published.

Floral photographs encouraged for registration applications

As noted on the application form, colour images of flowers are an excellent way to support any registration application. It has come to the registrar's attention that a few applications are made on the strength of a developing capsule that could, of course, be empty or produce seeds that fail to germinate. It is a requirement for naming cultivars and grexes that plants exist for a grex to be registered, preferably plants that have flowered. Registrations that can be shown to be for plants that do not exist will be cancelled.

Introduction of additional charges for hard-copy certificates

Due to the high cost of overseas postage, a charge of £10.00 will be introduced from 1 October 2021 for hard-copy certificates posted to addresses outside the UK. This represents the cost of tracked postal delivery. Digital certificates, if requested, will continue to be provided at no extra charge to the existing registration fee.

HOW MEANINGFUL ARE NAMES USED IN PLANT PATENTS?

Phalaenopsis x hybrida 'Sweet Talk' is a "name" applied to a mericlone marketed by Floricultura of the Netherlands, for which a US Plant Patent (2017/0094871) has been granted. The patent application is digitally published and obtainable on the web. The US Plant Patent is the equivalent of Plant Breeders' Rights or Plant Variety Rights issued by statutory authorities in countries that are members of UPOV.

It should be noted that from the perspective of the botanical (ICN) and cultivated plant (ICNCP) codes of nomenclature the patent application contains some invalid names. For example, Phalaenopsis x hybrida has not been traced as validly published. In Plant Patent applications it does happen that the botanical name used is nomenclaturally incorrect and in the case of hybrids the epithet hybrida is sometimes added to the genus name used, even though that botanical name has not been published. Perhaps this is similar to the use elsewhere of 'Phalaenopsis sp.' indicating an unknown species, and should be read as indicating an unknown hybrid, or a constraint of the application process. Sometimes the genus name may also be fictional, such as Cambria, or a hybrid genus that may not be applicable to the stated parentage such as Aliceara.

In the case of Phalaenopsis 'Sweet Talk' the parents are said to be the cultivars, 'Brother Pico Elf' and 'World Class'. These epithets do exist as the registered grexes Phalaenopsis Brother Pico Elf and Phalaenopsis World Class but do not appear to have establishment at cultivar rank. Because these grex names are treated as cultivars one might easily assume that the patented name Phalaenopsis 'Sweet Talk' is not a cultivar either, but a grex. Subsequently, AOS judges awarded a plant of Phalaenopsis 'Sweet Talk' as the grex Phalaenopsis Sweet Talk in 2019. However, Phalaenopsis Sweet Talk already existed as an established grex name since 1998, with the parentage Phalaenopsis Caledonia x Phalaenopsis Hilo Lip. Consequently, once the error was discovered the hybrid grex to which 'Sweet Talk' is attributed has been added to the register as Phalaenopsis Laura's Puzzle grex.

The above case illustrates that the difference between a cultivar and a grex, and how these names are applied and presented typographically, is little understood by those involved in applying for and processing Plant Patents. Perhaps it is the case that only cultivars can gain statutory protection, and hence everything is treated as if a cultivar to comply with the legislative requirement. Consequently, careful investigation of names presented for judging should be exercised, particularly in the case of mericlones with statutory protection.

Since the name Phalaenopsis 'Sweet Talk' has statutory protection at cultivar rank, at least in the USA, it may not there be replaced or appended by a cultivar epithet of an exhibitor's choice.

CAN EXTINCT CULTIVARS AND GREXES BE NAMED?

ICNCP Art. 27.7 reads: 'Names governed by this code are not established if, at the time of publication, no plants for which the name is proposed existed.' Art 27.7 prevents the invention of names for non-existent entities, or for future use in anticipation of what might develop. A similar provision exists under the ICN.

There is some ambiguity as ICNCP Art. 27.7 does not specify whether the existing plant material is alive or dead. Were only live plants intended or does this include plants that are extinct and now only known from documentation, images or preserved remains?

Consequently, the wording of Art. 27.7 could be interpreted to mean that where the formerly living plants are now extinct a name cannot be given to the plant once it is extinct.

In the case of cultivar names, which are established by description and hence are stand-alone units where details of parentage or origin are not required for establishment, this does not present difficulties as long as a plant still exists. However, in the case of grex names, which are dependent on named parental precursors to become established, this could be an issue.

Implications for grex names

It is not uncommon practice for breeders to name and register plants only when they show commercial potential. In the case of a hybridisation program, several generations may have passed before the desired result is achieved, by which time some earlier parental generations may be extinct. For a cultivar, this presents no impediment to nomenclatural establishment. However, for a grex this is awkward, because a grex is only nameable by reference to its parents, and its parents are only nameable by reference to their parents and so on in to the past. Consequently, a breeder who has waited several generations before naming a grex must first name the preceding generations before he can establish a name for the marketable plant, by which time some elements in the lineage may be extinct. This has been the standard practice since the 1800s, but does not appear to be accommodated, or at least recognised, by the wording of Art 27.7.

What next?

While looking into this problem, it became evident that orchids were not the only case where a cultivated plant might be extinct at the time of its discovery and description. There are a number of examples of what are known as 'archaeocultivars' or 'palaeocultivars', so it would seem appropriate to make a change to the ICNCP. The author has made a proposal to amend the wording of Article 27.7 for discussion by the ICNCP Commission at its next meeting.

Sander's List of Orchid Hybrids Three Year Addendum 2017–2019

The latest three-year (14th) addendum to Sander's list of orchid hybrids, published by the Royal Horticultural Society, contains names, parentage, and names of registrant and originator for all orchid hybrids registered between 1 January 2017 and 31 December 2019 – about 11,000 hybrids.

It also includes a master list of all accepted hybrid genera currently in use. The list includes their standard abbreviations and component genera. In the three years covered, 86 new orchid nothogenera were named, bringing the total to 2,588 hybrid genera in Orchidaceae.
