APPLES....Our Expert Recommends....

Jim Arbury, Superintendent of Wisley Fruit Department recommends:

To identify apples, look in

Apples: a guide to the identification of international varieties by John Bultitude. (Macmillan Press, 1983)

For newer varieties, try

The new book of apples by Joan Morgan and Alison Richards (Ebury Press, 2002)

To identify other fruit Jim's standby is a classic, first published in the 1920s

Handbook of hardy fruits more commonly grown in Great Britain, Edward Bunyard (facsimile edition, Picton Publishing, 1994)

Jim also recommends these guides to growing fruit for amateur gardeners:

Fruit and vegetable gardening, Michael Pollock (RHS 2002);

The fruit expert, David Hessayon (Expert Books, 2000);

Grapes indoors and out Harry Baker and Ray Waite, (RHS, 2003).

All books are available in the RHS Libraries.
